MEMORANDUM

August 18, 2014

TO: Board of Mayor and Aldermen

FROM: Eric Stuckey, City Administrator
Vernon Gerth, Assistant City Administrator
Chris Bridgewater, Director Building & Neighborhood Services

SUBJECT: Adoption of Ordinance 2014-25 "AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE CITY OF FRANKLIN MUNICIPAL CODE, APPENDIX A – COMPREHENSIVE FEES AND PENALTIES, CHAPTER 12 RELATING TO CONSTRUCTION PERMIT FEES"

Purpose

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide information to the Franklin Board of Mayor and Aldermen (BOMA) concerning the proposed ordinance that is intended to simplify the fee structure for construction permitting administered by Building and Neighborhood Services.

Background

In the past, BNS had fee structures for permits that were based on standard practices of other communities and the State of Tennessee for the various Building, Plumbing, Mechanical, and Electrical permits. As our community has grown, statistical analysis of our fee structure has identified that changes can be made to the fee table that are revenue-neutral to within a few percentage points. By adopting a method of calculation for permitting detached, single family dwellings that is based on square footage, both the public and city personnel can more easily understand and administer calculating and accepting fee payment. These fees can be reduced to a single fee for all inspections for a new home or addition. Permit applicants would no longer have to pay additional fees when changing the scope of their project or if additional inspections are required.

For example, Plumbing permit fees were calculated with a base fee plus a fee for each fixture. The applicant would have to estimate the number of fixtures when applying for a permit and the inspector would have to count fixtures in the field as a check. Many times this would require updating of the permit and confusion over exactly how to apply the fixture count, and the forward progress of the job could be halted while a new fee was administered. This type of system proved cumbersome for both City personnel and permit applicants. The Electrical permitting system was based on the number of inspections, and also proved unwieldy.

Additionally, a system for calculating fees for simple permits was needed to replace the complicated calculations that were removed. These calculated fees closely correspond to the new $50 fee for all simple permit types. For example, a Plumbing permit with up to five fixtures would have previously been calculated at $47. An Electrical permit with a minimum of 2 inspections would have been calculated at $54. An air conditioning change-out (Mechanical permit) with a valuation of $5000 would have cost $53.25. Any changes to the project would have previously resulted in stoppage of work until the additional fees could be collected. The new system would include all inspections required to complete the project. Additional electrical inspection services were simplified with only two categories and the fee calculation for large scale mechanical refrigeration projects was retained (i.e. grocery stores and hockey rinks).

MEMORANDUM

Additional adjustments to the Fee Schedule include:

- A fee to account for After Hours Inspection services commonly requested by contractors has been added.
- A Technology Fee is proposed for each permit in order to make improvements that will benefit all permit applicants. Examples of the way the revenue from this type of fee would be used include making permit processes available online, deploying technologies that give inspection results as they are performed, and making purchases for needed computer equipment upgrades.
- A clarification on how to handle additional plan review fees is also proposed. Currently, the municipal code states that plan review fees cover one initial review and one re-review. This would imply that additional reviews would be charged the full plan review fee. Charging 50% of the initial fee for each additional review would allow applicants to pay for only the plan review services they are receiving for additional reviews.

Financial Impact

The updates to the fee schedule are intended to remain as revenue neutral as possible while simplifying administration and improving understandability. A future fee update will address whether these fees cover the costs of development adequately.

Recommendation

Approval of the proposed ordinance is recommended.
